

Welcome to PRA! The Public Relations Association of Central Illinois is a group of public relations professionals from not-for profit, government, private sector and freelance organizations. Our programs cover the most current and pressing issues PR professionals face. This year's program schedule will cover a range of important topics, including successful marketing at a trade show, QR Codes and the challenges of freelancing. We offer education, networking opportunities, mentoring, annual PR awards and friendship. Be sure to join PRA today!
